SHIPPING LICENSE LAW

Schooner and Barge Officers Now to Be Licensed.

Vessels of Sail and Tugboats to Be Inspected—Law Goes Into Effect May 1st.—Numerous Craft Come in Showing Marks of the Storm.

Up to May 1st of this year the old laws requiring only masters, mates, pilots and engineers, etc., of steam vessels to secure license to hold such position, and requiring the inspection of all hulls, boilers and engines of steam vessels, will remain in force, but a circular was received yesterday from the Treasury Department, under signature of Supervising Inspector General Dumont, and approved by Secretary Lyman J. Gage, of the United States Treasury, setting forth the law passed December 21st, 1898, which makes it compulsory hereafter for hulls of sailing vessels of 700 tons and over and barges of 100 tons and over to pass inspection by the local inspectors, and for masters and mates of such vessels to secure a license for the holding of such command.

Not only freight vessels, but those of the above description, carrying passengers, are subject to this order. Those captains or mates having for one year held such position satisfactorily will, on submission of proof of such fact, be licensed without passing examination, provided only they pass the test for color blindness, but such masters or mates as have not served as such satisfactorily for a year, must pass examination before the Local Board of Inspectors of Vessels, such examination to be in writing and fitted for the duties they perform, as must all new applicants for license in either position set forth.

Supervising Inspector John W. Oast, for this district, and his assistants will find their work very greatly augmented by this decision, and a large force may be necessitated.

The full text of the act of Congress authorizing this, with penalties and all other needed information, will be found displayed on the bulletin board at the United States Custom House.

SHE LOST AN ANCHOR. The schooner Samuel Dilloway, Captain Smith, was one of the victims of the big storm to the extent of losing an anchor and 125 fathoms of chain off Cape Horn, where she was anchored Monday night. She then went to sea and returned here Wednesday evening, and came up Thursday afternoon under her own sail.

TWO BARGES LEAKING. The tug Hercules towed in two barges belonging to the Atlantic Towing and Lightering Company yesterday, making trips from the Roads for that purpose. They were the Pactolus and Montana. Both were leaking and are now anchored in the harbor. Both are coal laden for New York.

SCHOONER ASHORE. The Hercules reported the schooner Young Brothers, Captain Snow, of Washington, D. C., from Maine, with ice ashore at Boush Bluff.

ANCHOR AND WINDLASS. The schooner Florence Shay, Captain Abbott, stranded on Sewall's Point as result of losing anchor and thirty fathoms chain, was hauled off by the tug yesterday and towed to safe anchorage. She had also carried away her windlass. Captain Abbott came to Norfolk yesterday and noted protest with Captain George F. Phillips.

Seven Beat Fifteen. A bright little boy, who reads The Virginian-Pilot regularly, hands in the following: "Of course, you know all about the big snow-storm. Well, we boys had a battle with snow-balls. We used snow drifts for forts and my side beat the other side. This made them mad and they came at us with their fists. I hit a boy on his nose, making it weep blood. He went home crying. He couldn't help going somewhere, so he went home and took the crippled nose along. Our army was seven boys strong and the other side had fifteen. The fight lasted about a half hour and the enemy did not need anybody to tell them when they had enough. They surrendered, and we paroled all of them except the boy with the sick nose. He put that in a hospital and we are laying for him, nose and all. "This is my first job of reporting."

WILLARD MEMORIAL. (Communicated.) The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Norfolk will hold a commemorative service to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in Epworth Church, in memory of Mrs. Francis Willard's heavenly birthday.

One year ago this great and gifted woman, who so wondrously led the forces of the temperance cause in America and in the world, "followed the gleam" and passed on before. Her principles will live on forever. These principles will be noted in the meeting Sunday afternoon. Several appropriate solos will be rendered and readings by members of the different Y's of this city.

Sunday schools, Epworth Leaguers and B. Y. P. U.'s are specially invited.

Condition of Norfolk Streets. Chairman Hoffelmer, of the Street, Sewer and Drain Board, was on the streets yesterday, personally supervising the removal of snow and slush. Inspector Lee is sick and yesterday Mr. Hoffelmer had the use of his buggy and went over the streets, ascertaining where work was most needed. The streets are now in fair condition, considering the weather, and will be in good condition in a few days.

Prior to stock taking we propose to inaugurate a special diamond sale, so during the next ten days you will be able to secure some rare bargains.

THE GALE JEWELRY CO. See Dr. Peck about your eyes. Examination free. 210 Main street.

Strong, steady nerves
Are needed for success
Everywhere. Nerves
Depend simply, solely,
Upon the blood.
Pure, rich, nourishing
Blood feeds the nerves
And makes them strong.
The great nerve tonic is
Hood's Sarsaparilla,
Because it makes
The blood rich and
Pure, giving it power
To feed the nerves.

Cures nervousness,
Dyspepsia, rheumatism,
